

Related Materials >

Federal Communication commission

Headlines Daily Digest

FCC Reports Success of Broadband

February 17, 2023 - News Release

Related Materials >

Related Materials >

Interagency Coordination Act

February 17, 2023 - Notice of Proposed

FCC Encourages Greater Tribal

February 17, 2023 - Public Notice

Participation in E-Rate Program

FCC Tribal Workshop to Be Held In

Solvang, CA on February 27, 2023

Brower By

CATEORY

Access Now

EDOCS

Commission

Documents

PSIX-ESIX ECFS

February Open Meeting

An archive of the Open Meeting press releases, Chair

Find all the materials from this month's meeting and Commissioner statements, items, video, and more

Electronic Commen

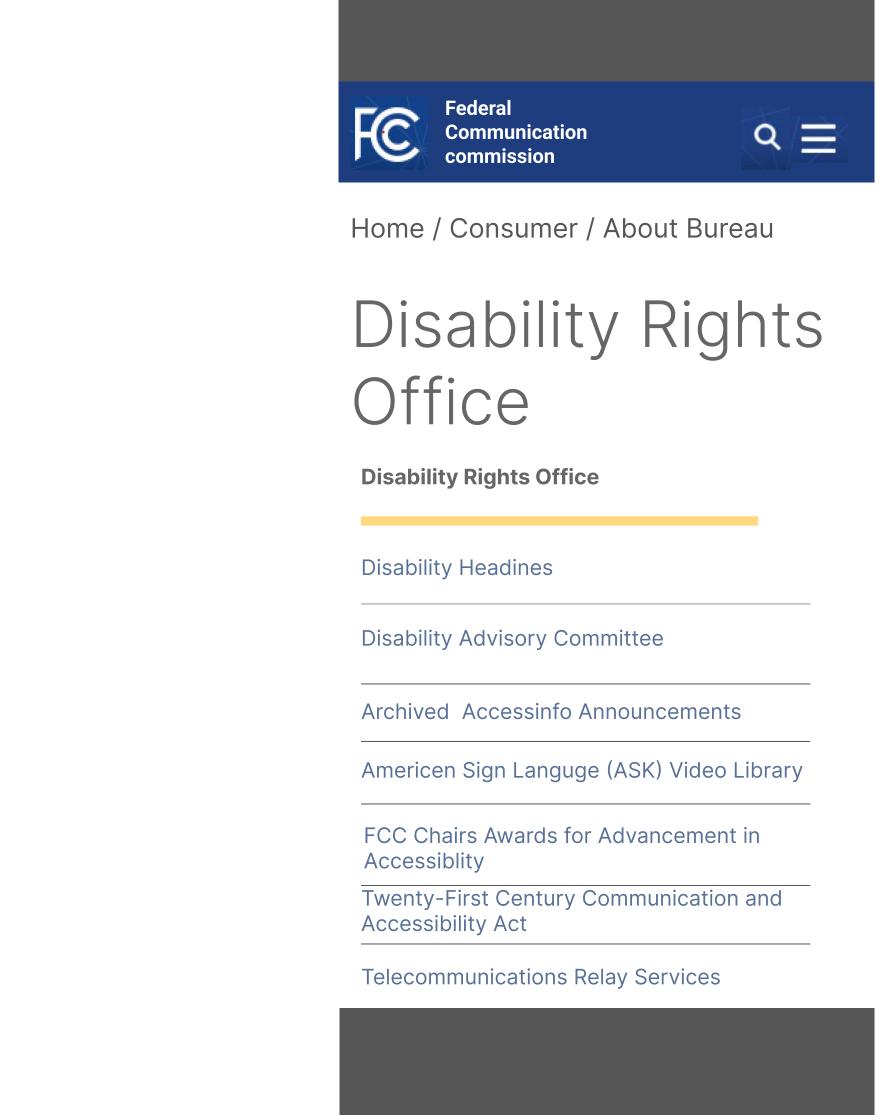

Universal Licensing

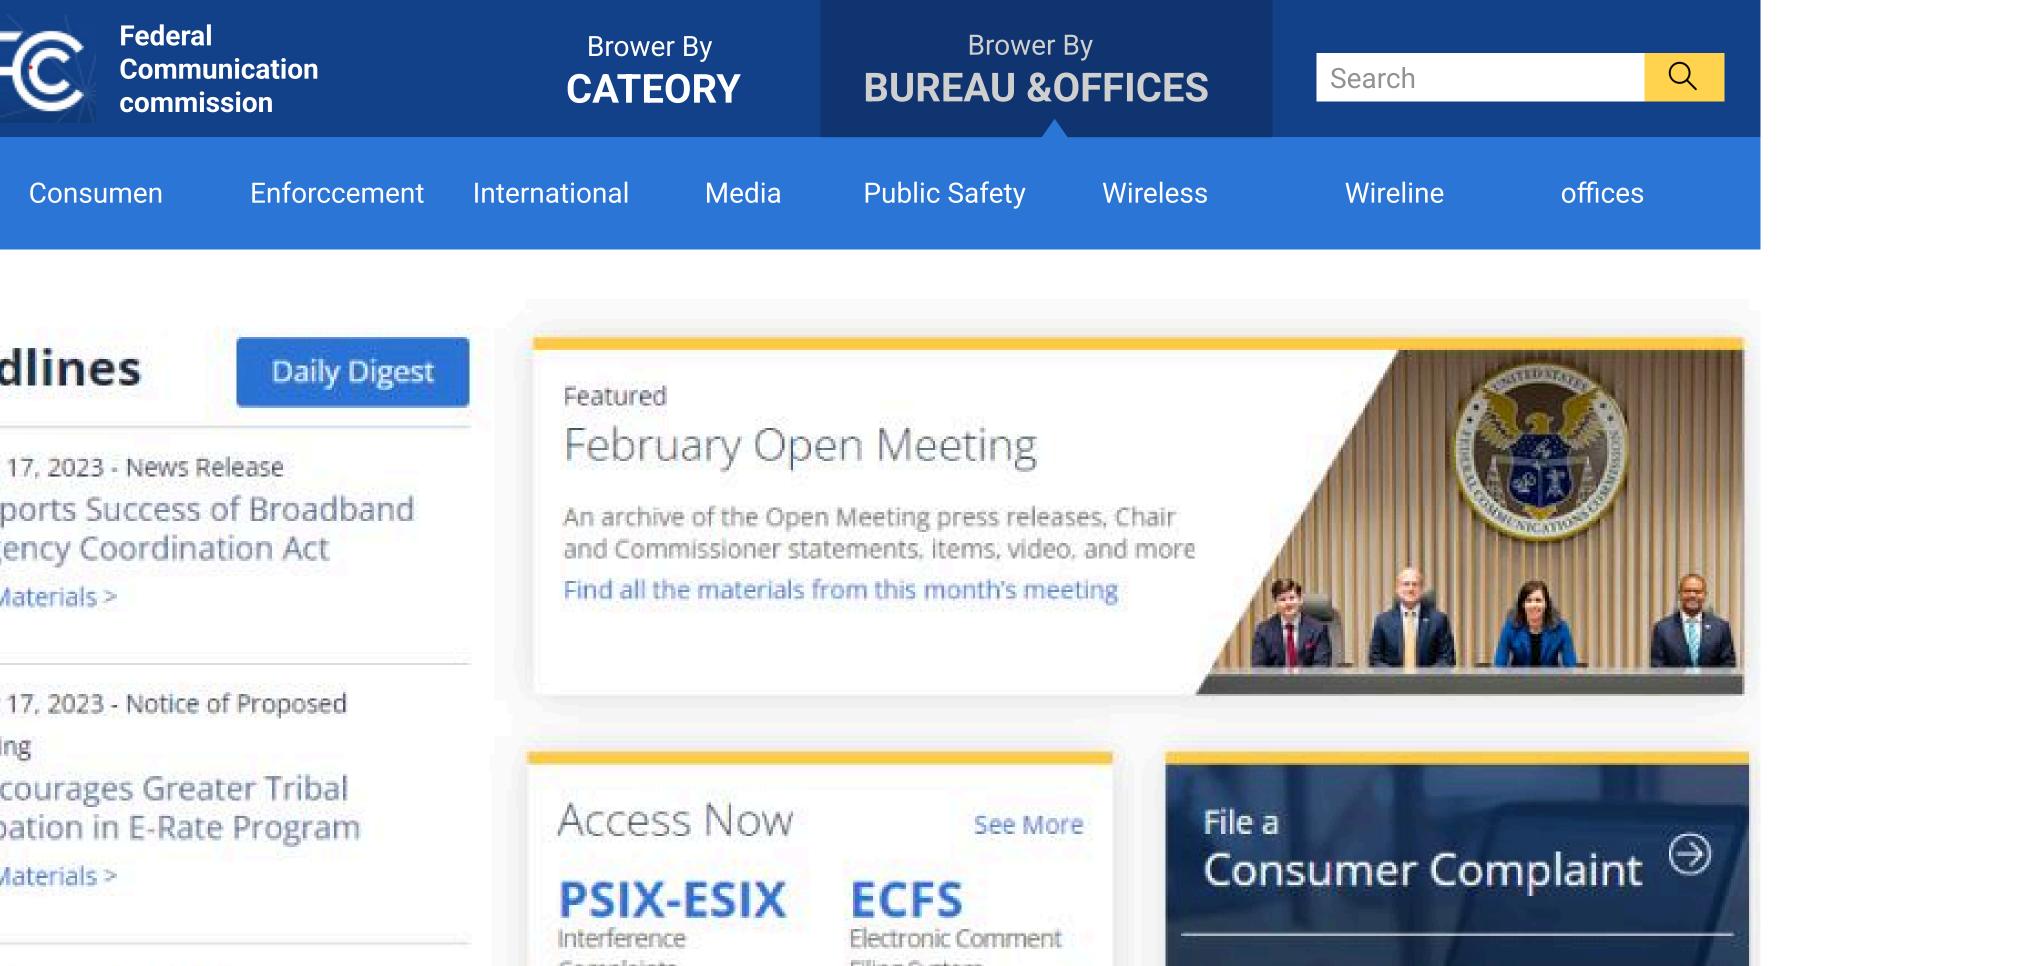

Public Comment

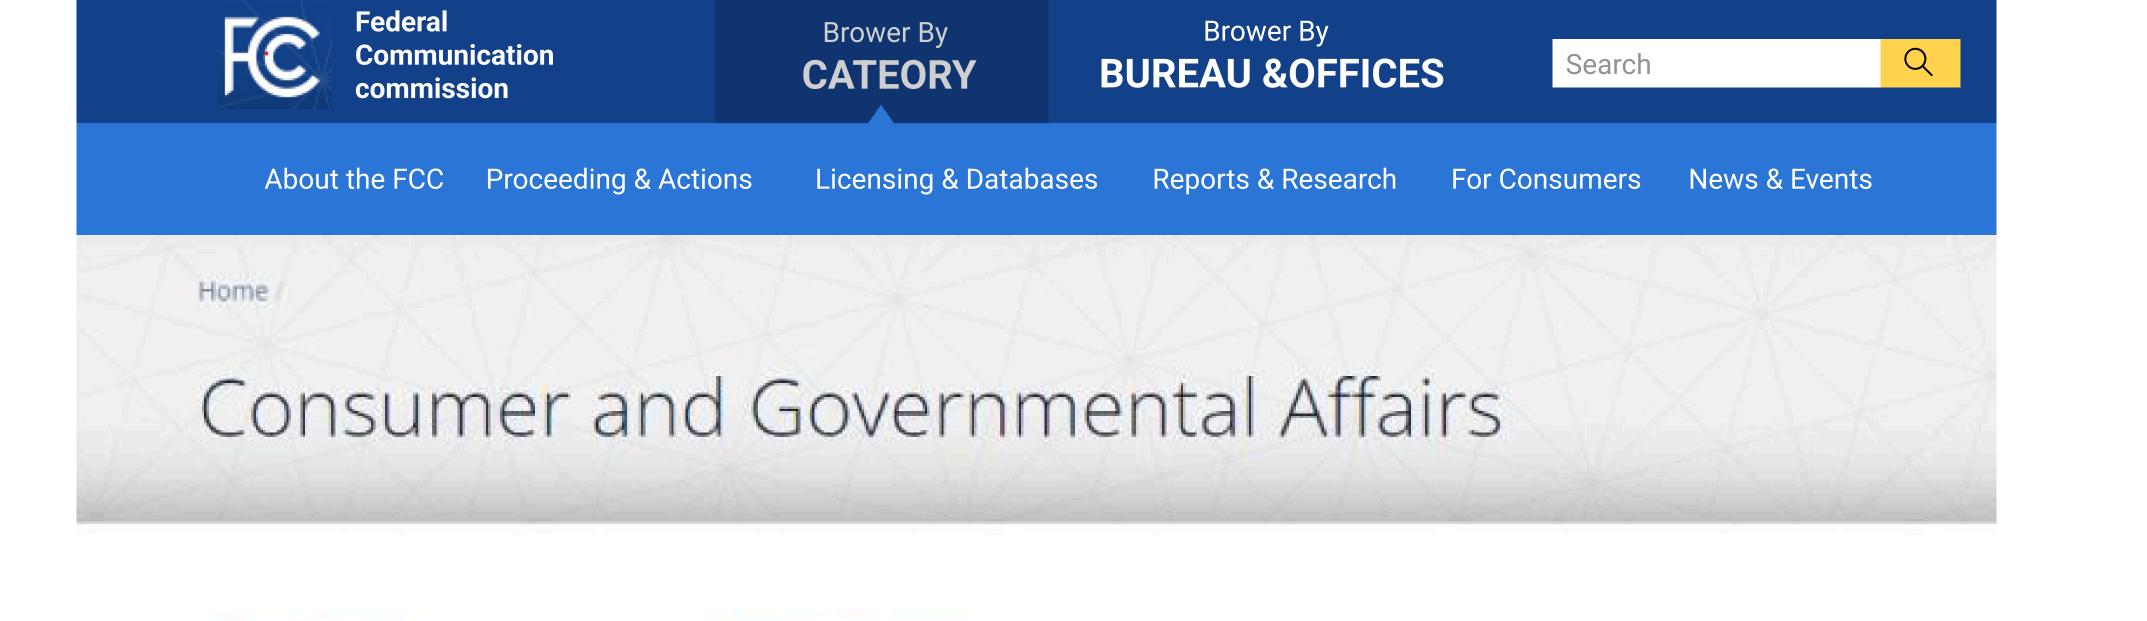

Filing System

System

BUREAU &OFFICES

Dieshility Diahte Office

The Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau develops and implements the FCC's consumer policies and serves as the agency's connection to the American consumer. Our mission includes disability rights, consumer education, and outreach to state, local and Tribal governments. Learn more about our work. Alejandro Roark, Bureau Chief

Consumer and Governmental Affairs Headlines

Governmental Affairs Bureau Today we are launching a new webpage that showcases the FCC's work to...

More Notes

Disability Rights

Our Disability Rights Office addresses a variety of disability-related telecommunications matters, including access to equipment and services, mobile phone web browsers, emergency information and closed captioning. We also provide expert advice and assistance to consumers, industry and others on issues relevant to people with disabilities.

More about Disability Rights

Brower By CATEORY

Brower By

About the FCC Proceeding & Actions Licensing & Databases Reports & Research For Consumers News & Events

Search BUREAU &OFFICES

Home / Consumer / About the Bureau /

Disability Rights Office

Disability Rights Office

Disability Headlines

Disability Advisory Committee Archived Accessinfo

American Sign Language (ASL) Video Library

FCC Chair's Awards for

Announcements

Advancement in Accessibility

Twenty-First Century

About the Disability Rights Office

The Disability Rights Office addresses disability-related matters, including access to telecommunications services and equipment: hearing aid compatibility; access to advanced communications services and equipment; access to Internet browsers built into mobile phones; telecommunications relay services; the National Deaf-Blind Equipment Distribution Program: accessible video

Disability Consumer Guides

File a Consumer Complaint

File a Public Comment

Subscribe to AccessInfo E-Mail Announcements